STEAMER ON REEF PASSENGERS SAVED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Forced to take to the lifeboats when the steamer Merced struck the rocks at Point Gorda, thirty miles south of Eureka, the Merced's passengers had all been taken safely on board the motorboat Atlas today, according to a statement received by Charles R. McCormick, the vessel's owner.

The Merced is a large new lumber carrier with accommodations for 80 first-class passengers and a crew of 40. She left here yesterday with 20 first-class passengers, bound in ballast for Columbia river ports. The only woman passenger on board was Miss Russa Reid, an actress, who was on her way to her sick mother in Spokane. Captain A. F. Asplund was in command.

TOM FREKAS PAYS FINE FOR STEALING APPLES

Tom Frekas, whose petty larceny operations are alleged to have embraced wholesale thefts of chickens and apples was fined $25 and costs by Justice Taylor, upon his conviction by a jury of stealing two boxes of apples from Fred Hopkins of the Snowy Butter orchards near Central Point last Sunday. Frekas used an S. P. speeder to "tote" away his loot. It is alleged that Frekas raids on hen houses about depopulated roosts along the right of way, and that he sold his ill-gotten gains to Medford restaurants and meat shops.

BELIEVE SAN FRANCISCO BOY WAS KIDNAPED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16.—A general alarm was sent out today for Emil Frank, aged 6, son of Max Frank, a baker. The child disappeared Monday and his parents believe he was kidnapped.

JOHNSON GOES EAST TO AID BULL MOOSE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Governor G. W. Johnson announced today that he will leave Sacramento next Sunday for the east to participate in the progressive state conventions in New Jersey and Massachusetts.

The governor expects to be absent for three weeks and will make brief campaign speeches in behalf of Everett Colby, progressive candidate for governor of New Jersey and for Charles Sumner Bird, the progressive nominee for governor of Massachusetts.

"The progressives of Massachusetts," said the governor, "led by such men as Charles Summer Bird and Mathew Hale of Boston, are a splendid body of men, representing the highest type of American manhood and citizenship. I am delighted to respond to their call."

"These two states show the temper of the progressives in the east, and that there, as in California, the progressive party has come to stay."

POSSES IN PURSUIT OF FLEEING STABBER

SAN MATEO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Posses resumed the hunt early today for the laborer, believed to be Joseph Adamo, who, after fatally stabbing J. Mandhos, a fellow workman, fought a pistol duel with Chief of Police Aldon McComb and escaped into the swamp between here and the bay. The stabbing occurred just after dark and McComb was in pursuit of the supposed Adamo before the trolley car on which he fled had disappeared. As he came up with it, at the bridge of Baden Crossing, the fugitive jumped off and he and McComb emptied their revolvers at one another. The former was hit but escaped into the brush under cover of darkness.

BOUFFE WAR IN SAN DOMINGO

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The supreme moment on board the lost liner Volturno was reached at 9:45 Thursday night. It was at that hour that the fire, which had previously been confined below, burst through the deck.

The flames leaped fifty feet in the air, the red glare lighting the scene brilliantly. A half moon breaking through the clouds at intervals showed the eleven liners maneuvering about the burning ship.

As they moved they gave the effect of battleships maneuvering with the tiny lamps in the lifeboats bobbing on the water's surface, answered by an occasional blue signal from the bridge of a liner.

Collisions between the liners were prevented only by splendid seamanship.

On the deck of the Grosser Kurzuerst were groups of hysterical women and praying men. The flames burned high all night, gradually working their way back from the bow to the funnel.

Then came daylight. Suddenly the sea was alive with small boats. The survivors were removed more quickly than seemed possible.

Our last look at the Volturno showed her burning back to the stern. The passengers were rescued just in time.

RESCUE PARTIES SEEK ENTOMBED MINERS

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 16.—Despite the risk they ran in the gas-filled, burning and crumbling Universal coal mine at Singhenydd, near here, rescue parties were still working in relays today in an effort to reach the twenty-nine imprisoned miners, heard signalling yesterday from behind a huge rock fall. The men had not been heard from for some time, and it was believed they had succumbed, but the rescuers were determined to take no chance of abandoning them while any remained alive.

Miss Marian B. Towne was removed from the Ashland hospital to her home last Saturday and is making rapid progress toward recovery. A special school meeting will be held Saturday afternoon of this week. The meeting should be well attended as several important measures are to be voted upon.

Dr. J. K. Baillie left Monday evening for Portland to attend the Presbyterian synod which convenes in that city this week. Mr. Anderson who is a missionary, will occupy Dr. Baillie's pulpit here next Sunday morning.

Mrs. Eva Wheeler, a national W. C. T. U. organizer, will give an address in the Christian church next Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Wheeler's special work is among young people. She is a gifted speaker. It is to be a union service of both churches.

The progressives of Massachusetts," said the governor, "led by such men as Charles Summer Bird and Mathew Hale of Boston, are a splendid body of men, representing the highest type of American manhood and citizenship. I am delighted to respond to their call."

"These two states show the temper of the progressives in the east, and that there, as in California, the progressive party has come to stay."

ROGUE RIVER VALLEY UNIVERSITY CLUB.

TO THE VOTERS OF MEDFORD.

In accordance with the provisions of the new registration law passed at the last session of the Oregon legislature, every elector of a municipality, where the county precincts are, not co-extensive with the city wards, is the case in Medford, must register with the city recorder. It will therefore be necessary for everyone desiring to vote at the next city election in January, to register at the recorder's office in the city hall, not later than December 15th, 1913. Registration books are now open and every voter in the city should bring two freeholders of the county for witnesses.

Remember that your county registration does not entitle you to vote at the city election and you should register as soon as possible to avoid the final rush as there is no other place to register.

ELMER FOSS,

Recorder of the City of Medford, Oregon.
